MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED], O/DCI

SUBJECT: Spaceonics

25X1A

1. In response to your inquiry yesterday regarding the visit of the Spaceonics representatives, I have discussed this matter with [REDACTED] and as best I can determine the pertinent facts appear to be as follows.

2. The Electronic Tool Company is a subsidiary of Spaceonics and several former acquaintances of [REDACTED] from his Navy Research days had gone to work in the Spaceonics organization. As a result of this association, there was a time at least two years ago when these former acquaintances referred two proposals, that he recalls, for his consideration. One of these had to do with a rendezvous beacon, the particulars of the other he cannot remember but was in the same general vein of a beacon of some sort. At that time and even today we are interested in rendezvous beacons that would be effective on the ground. The Spaceonics proposal, however, was aerial and we did not then and do not now have any application for such a device.

25X1A 3. [REDACTED] advised me that within a month or so from the time he received these proposals he reported back to Spaceonics that the Agency did not have any application for their proposals but suggested other units in the Defense Department which might. (At that time [REDACTED] was in the former DPD/DD/P.) He had heard no more about this in the meantime. Additionally, I have inquired into the prospects of doing business with Spaceonics, since I suspect the developing of business was the primary purpose of the recent visit rather than to complain, and I find that to our most recent knowledge, so many of their best people have left Spaceonics that we do not know of any prospects that we would likely turn to that company for assistance.
